

Bystanders and Public Conscience....What would you do when injustice stares at you?

Written by U.S Immigration News

Friday, 04 June 2010 19:03 - Last Updated Monday, 11 August 2008 09:19

Bystanders and Public Conscience....What would you do when injustice stares at you?

By Chinyere Ojide

“Because justice is not done instantly...that is why the heart of man is full of evil” states a Bible verse. As a phenomenon, certain types of injustice are repulsive, offensive, annoying, and so they attract spontaneous reaction in every society. That was why a poor homeless Hispanic guy recently came by a deadly attacker on a street corner trying to chase after a